FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Last Chance to Enter Your Submission in the UCLA T-Shirt Contest

Westwood, Calif. – Oct. 30, 2019 – There are just a few days left for students to have their creativity forever immortalized by submitting an entry for the 7th annual UCLA T-shirt Design Contest, which closes on Friday, November 8.

UCLA students can take part in creating Bruin swag by submitting their design for a t-shirt in this contest, which has taken place each fall since 2013.

Interested students can visit the UCLA Store website and click this link to enter the UCLA T-Shirt Design Contest. From there, designers must complete the submission form, prepare their art following the posted requirements, and submit their design to ucla.tshirt@gmail.com. The contest web page also includes downloads for applicable t-shirt styles and various UCLA logos.

“The t-shirt design contest is one of our favorite ASUCLA events, and we love being able to engage with students in such a creative way,” said Guy Adams, Custom Products & Academic Publishing Director. “We get so many amazing submissions, and it’s really exciting to see the winning one come to life. It’s a great way to promote pride in our Bruin community.”

All entries received by November 8 will be featured in the UCLA T-Shirt Contest Design Showcase, on Kerckhoff Patio from 11:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 13. From there, the ASUCLA Board of Directors and the USAC Internal Vice President’s Office select 20 finalists. Students will then be able to vote online for the submission they like the most.

The winning entry will be announced at 12:00 p.m. on December 10, via the ASUCLA Instagram page (@ASUCLA), and will be available to purchase at the UCLA Store and online in January 2020.

The 2019 winning shirt was designed by Kailey Nichols, a first-year Cognitive Science major, and is currently available at the UCLA Store. Fifty percent of the proceeds from t-shirt sales go back to UCLA students, by way of the ASUCLA Interaction Fund.
